

An Epicurean Extravaganza

*With
The Harriton Association*

at City Tavern
with Chef Walter Staib,
Host of PBS series, A Taste of History

*Wednesday, April 27, 2011
from six to eight o'clock*

PRESENTING SPONSOR

City Tavern & Chef Walter Staib

SPONSORS

Arader Tree Service

Beaumont at Bryn Mawr

Hanna, McGlone & Co. P.C.

Laurel Hill & West Laurel Hill Cemetery Companies Bringhurst Funeral Home

Logan Capital Management

Stanley Merves

Helen Weary

List incomplete

The Harriton Association
Historic Harriton House
500 Harriton Road, P.O. Box 1364, Bryn Mawr, PA 19010
www.harritonhouse.org
610.525.0201

MENU—A TASTE OF HISTORY

Basil Shrimp, Duck Sausage En Croute, Smoked Pheasant en Croute
Mini Beef Pie, Cornmeal Fried Oysters,
Quiche, Knish, BBQ Veal & Herb Sausage & Stuffed Clams

A Taste of the 18th–Century Delaware River

Featuring Escoveitch of Salmon, Shrimp, Oysters, Crab Claws, Chick Lobsters, Salmon Roe, Smoked Salmon & Trout, Pickled Herring

Salmagundi Display

Featuring a selection of Smoked Meats, Sausages, & Artisan Cheeses
Grilled & Marinated Vegetables

Displayed with City Tavern's Bread & Black Forest Cracker Breads
&

Pepperpot & Sweet Potato Biscuits, Martha Washington Inspired Turkey Stew
Citrus Marinated Salmon

Chef Staib's Selection of Accompaniments

Dessert Station

Miniature Pastries

City Tavern Specialty Drinks, Ales of the Revolution, Chef Staib's Selection of Red & White Wine

All included

THE HARRITON ASSOCIATION INVITES YOU

TO

Sample the fare that Charles Thomson and Thomas Jefferson Enjoyed from Authentic 18th–Century Recipes

Documented by Walter Staib, Chef of City Tavern

&

Host of the Emmy Award–Winning PBS Television Series, "A Taste of History"

City Tavern, 138 South Second Street, Philadelphia

Ample Parking is Available

TO BENEFIT HISTORIC HARRITON HOUSE AND ITS PROGRAMS

Connecting Our Past with Our Present

AN EPICUREAN EXTRAVAGANZA
TO BENEFIT HISTORIC HARRITON HOUSE

Wednesday, April 27, 2011

Name(s) _____

Address: _____

E-mail: _____

I/ would like to be a:

_____ Thomson Sponsor $1,000 for two ($880 tax deductible)

_____ Jefferson Patron $500 for one ($440 tax deductible)

_____ Epicure $250 for one ($190 tax deductible)

_____ Gourmet $125 for one ($65 tax deductible)

I cannot attend, but am pleased to enclose a tax-deductible gift to Harriton of $ _____

Please Respond by April 22 and make checks payable to The Harriton Association 500 Harriton Road, Bryn Mawr, PA 19010

HARRITON HOUSE

Harriton House in Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania is the historic home of Charles Thomson, Secretary to the Continental Congress, who dined often at City Tavern when Congress was in session.

Harriton House is open to the public, presenting history in dynamic ways to an audience of all ages. Through its classes for school children, community gardens, beekeeping operations, craftsmanship classes, and other interpretive programs, Harriton brings into focus and puts into historical perspective our attitudes toward the land that we plant, the foods that we eat, and the tools that we use—the ways in which we live. It makes real and constructive our relationships with our history.

WALTER STAIB, CITY TAVERN, AND “A TASTE OF HISTORY”

Walter Staib is the chef/proprietor of Philadelphia’s City Tavern, whose primary mission is to interpret and deliver a culinary experience inspired by the customs and foods of 18th-century Colonial America. The Epicurean Extravaganza will feature samples of such fare, as seen on Chef Staib’s Emmy Award-winning television series, A Taste of History, and documented in his most recent book, City Tavern: Recipes from the Birthplace of American Cuisine. Episodes of A Taste of History have been filmed at Harriton House.